SEA TRIAL DOCUMENT

Marine Safety (Domestic Commercial Vessel) National Law Act 2012
Marine Safety (temporary operations) exemption 2020 (Division 3) EX07
Marine Surveyors Accreditation Guidance Manual

This is an approved form for the purposes of Division 3 of EX07. The domestic commercial vessel specified in this document is, as a consequence of Division 3 of EX07, exempt from the requirement to have a certificate of survey, the requirement to have a certificate of operation and any requirement to have a load line certificate, for a period of 14 days from the date of signature below.

It is a condition of Division 3 of EX07 that the owner of the vessel keeps this signed document on the vessel at all times when the exemption is in force.

This document can only be signed by a recognised organisation or an accredited marine surveyor with category (k) accreditation. Submit a copy of this document to the National Regulator with the survey report and recommendation.

A. Surveyed vessel details

Note 1. The above class(es), operation type and persons numbers must match those on the vessels plan approval documentation and corresponding application(s) for National Law certificates.

Note 2. AMSA recommends that the number of non-essential personnel on board is limited during sea trials (e.g. not carrying passengers).

Describe the location of the sea trial as provided in the passage plan:

Note: This document does not exempt a vessel from any requirements imposed under state or territory local waterways management legislation. AMSA recommends that the owner/master contacts the local marine safety agency to discuss the sea trial and ascertain any local requirements.

B. Surveyor's declaration

I declare that:

- I am an accredited marine surveyor, a delegate of the National Regulator or an authorised representative of a recognised organisation.
- I have conducted a survey of the above-mentioned vessel.
- I have taken into account the vessels arrangement, construction, stability and level of equipment.
- I have taken into account a passage plan for the sea trial and the intended service category for the vessel.
- I consider that the vessel may be safely operated for a period of 14 days from the date of signature below.
- I understand and acknowledge that I am required to provide the National Regulator with information it requests that is relevant to my accreditation.
