How to Register for Online Learning

1. Access AMSA's website by clicking www.amsa.gov.au

The screenshot shows the AMSA website homepage. At the top, there is the Australian Government logo and the text 'Australian Government Australian Maritime Safety Authority'. To the right, there is a 'CELEBRATING 21 YEARS 1990—2011' logo and a search bar. Below the header, there is a navigation menu on the left with buttons for 'Home', 'About AMSA', 'Marine Environment Protection', 'National Plan Training', 'Search & Rescue', 'Shipping Safety', 'Shipping Registration', 'Marine Qualifications & ISM Code', and 'Current Information'. A red arrow points to the 'National Plan Training' button. The main content area features a large image of a ship at sea with the text 'PROMOTING SAFETY & PROTECTING THE ENVIRONMENT'. Below this, there is a 'CLICK HERE' button and a 'NATIONAL SYSTEM FOR COMMERCIAL VESSEL SAFETY' banner. On the right side, there is a 'Main Switchboard General Enquiries' section with contact numbers: '+61 2 6279 5000', 'Media 1300 624 633', 'Distress Beacons 1800 406 406', and 'EMERGENCY 24 HOUR CONTACTS Search & Rescue and Oil Spill Maritime 1800 641 792 International +61 2 6230 6811 Aviation 1800 815 257 International +61 2 6230 6899 Fax 1800 622 153'. There is also a 'Current News & Events' section with a sub-heading 'Cape Wickham Lighthouse 150th Anniversary' and a date '11 November 2011'. The text describes the anniversary and provides a 'more' link.

2. National Plan Training Online Learning portal is located on the left hand side of your screen as shown by the red arrow in this document. Click on this button.

The screenshot shows the AMSA website homepage with the 'National Plan Training' page selected. The left-hand navigation menu is visible, with a red arrow pointing to the 'National Plan Training' button. Below the 'National Plan Training' button, there is a sub-menu with 'National Plan Training Portal'. The main content area features a large image of a ship at sea with the text 'PROMOTING SAFETY & PROTECTING THE ENVIRONMENT'. Below this, there is a 'National Plan Training' section with the following text: 'The Introduction to Pollution Response training is a series of four underpinning modules that have been designed for Marine Pollution Responders under the National Plan and are free of charge to all learners. You can access the National Plan modules by clicking on the National Plan portal button which will take you to the main page. Then click on browse, select your National Plan training module and register. An email will be forwarded to you within 48 hours confirming your registration and you can commence learning. When you have successfully completed the learning a Certificate of Completion will be forwarded to you. Contact nationalplantraining@amsa.gov.au for help or advice.'

3. Click the National Plan Training Portal button on which will appear underneath the National Plan Training tab.

4. On the right hand side, under Getting Started, you will see a list of steps. You need to click on Browse, which is Step 1.

The screenshot shows the homepage of the AMSA National Plan e-Learning Centre. The header includes the Australian Government logo and the text 'PROFESSIONAL DEVELOPMENT & TRAINING'. A navigation menu on the left lists 'Welcome', 'eStore', 'Browse', 'Search', 'Home', 'Help', and 'Login'. The main content area features a title 'National Plan Training: Building Australia's marine pollution response capability'. Below this, there is a 'Welcome to AMSA's National Plan e-Learning Centre' section with a photo of Toby Stone, General Manager of AMSA's Marine Environment Division. To the right, a 'Getting Started' section contains a list of steps, with the first step 'Click Browse or Search to find the course you are looking for.' highlighted by a red arrow.

5. Click on National Plan Training.

This screenshot shows the 'Browse' page. The header and navigation menu are the same as in the previous screenshot.
