I, Michael Kinley, Chief Executive Officer of the Australian Maritime Safety Authority, make this Marine Order under subsection 342(1) of the Navigation Act 2012.

2019

[DRAFT ONLY — NOT FOR SIGNATURE]
Chief Executive Officer

CONSULTATION DRAFT

Section 1

1 Name of Marine Order

This Marine Order is Marine Orders Amendment (Consequential changes) Order 2019.

2 Commencement

This Marine Order commences immediately after the commencement of Marine Order 47 (Offshore industry units) 2019.

3 Amendment of Marine Orders

Each Marine Order mentioned in the title of a Schedule to this Marine Order is amended in accordance with the Schedule.

CONSULTATION DRAFT

Schedule 1 Marine Order 1 (Administration) 2013

- [1] Section 6, definitions of natural resources, offshore industry mobile unit, offshore support vessel and structure

omit

Schedule 2 Marine Order 31 (SOLAS certification) 2015

- [1] Section 4, after definition of nuclear vessel

insert

offshore industry unit means a vessel that:

- (a) is used or prepared for use for any activity mentioned in subclause 4(1) or 4(5A) of Schedule 3 to the Offshore Petroleum and Greenhouse Gas Storage Act 2006; and
- (b) does not include a vessel mentioned in subclause 4(6) of that Schedule or a vessel to which the ESP Code applies.

Note 1 The definition includes a vessel described in paragraph (a) whether or not the vessel is located in Commonwealth waters that has the meaning given by the Offshore Petroleum and Greenhouse Gas Storage Act 2006.

Note 2 An offshore industry unit does not include a thing that is not a vessel such as a structure. See section 14 of the Navigation Act for the meaning of vessel.

- [2] Subsection 6(3)

substitute

- (3) This Order does not apply to:
 - (a) a nuclear vessel to the extent that this Order is inconsistent with Chapter VIII of SOLAS; or
 - (b) a vessel that is an offshore industry unit.
